

Testimonial #4

Paulita Lasola Malay, Marriage and Family Therapist, Psychotherapist-Life Coach aptly accomplished her stated purpose, "to provide services to others so that they can create better and better lives and help them transform their relationships into happier, healthier, and harmonious ones." She did this for me and my family.

Walking into her office was akin to visiting a trusted friend. One of the first things I noticed hanging on the wall was a beautiful collection of souvenir teaspoons from her travels around the world. After a few sessions, I concluded that this collection represents Paulita's deep respect for cultural differences and her eagerness and openness to learn from others.

Her professional demeanor is enhanced by a deep perception, empathy, and warmth. She is a good listener and a calming influence.

I highly recommend Paulita Lasola Malay for anyone seeking to attain what we are supposed to be and truly can be...happy!
